1. Proposed jury instructions, with citations to authority, shall be filed. Submit only substantive instructions pertaining to the law of the case; do not submit standard or boilerplate instructions.
2. The Court expects that all motions raising a substantive legal issue shall be accompanied by a reasoned memorandum setting forth the precise issues, the relevant law, and facts applicable to the law. The filing of "boilerplate" motions or memoranda will not satisfy this requirement. Responses to motions shall set forth specific points of law, together with supporting authorities relied upon.
3. Counsel for the parties shall confer, prior to the filing of motions, to attempt to reach agreement upon all pretrial motions, including motions for discovery and disclosure. The Government provides a stipulation form to implement the Court's standing discovery order.
4. Upon request of the Defendant, the Government shall forthwith comply with Rule 16(a)(1)(A)-(E).

5. If the Defendant requests disclosure under Rule 16(a), such Defendant shall, upon request of the Government, forthwith comply with Rule 16(b).
6. The Government shall timely furnish all materials required by Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83, 83 S. Ct. 1194, 10 L. Ed. 2d 215 (1963) and Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150, 92 S. Ct. 763, 31 L. Ed. 2d 104 (1972).
7. Any written statements of the Government's witnesses discoverable under the Jencks Act, 18 U.S.C. § 3500, shall be furnished to the Defendant unless the Government demands strict compliance with the Jencks Act.
8. It will be the responsibility of defense counsel to ensure Defendant's prompt attendance at hearings and trial and to notify defense witnesses not to report if the case does not go to trial.
9. Upon a showing of good cause, the Court may permit exceptions to the rules set forth in this order.
10. If Defense counsel or Government counsel feel that an interpreter is needed in this case, counsel shall promptly file a motion with the Court requesting an interpreter.

DATED this 26th day of March, 2019.
